Notes & Details

Make drying and storing your large pans simple with this Regency add-on drying rack. Designed to fit 24" Regency shelves, this rack is perfect for both drying and storing your large pans. It features (6) 1 1/4" slots with dividers between them to keep the pans from touching and to allow for proper air flow while drying. This rack conveniently hooks onto your Regency green epoxy wire shelving, providing a secure hold that can withstand frequent use. You can also move and adjust the rack over and over again as your drying or storage needs change, making it easy to customize your unit to meet your business's unique requirements. This easy removal will come in handy when you need to clean your rack or your shelves. Designed to maximize your shelf capacity, this functional drying rack is sure to create valuable storage and drying space for your business.

This rack's green epoxy coating is exceptionally corrosion resistant, allowing the rack to be used for drying pans and trays in washing areas without fear of rusting. The open design lets water drip freely through it without collecting, decreasing overall drying time and preventing water pooling. In addition to drying purposes, this rack can be used to neatly store pans, keeping them easily accessible to grab and go without having to separate them from a stack. This versatile rack helps streamline your drying, storing, and cooking processes by allowing you to keep your pans together, organized, and accessible at all times. A perfect addition to your Regency shelves, this rack is ideal for restaurants, break rooms, hotels, and cafeterias. Make the most of your shelf space with this Regency drying rack!
